Dazie led the ballet effectively, but tripped and fell once.

Next week's programme at this house includes two Melba appearances—one on Monday in "Lucia," the other on Thursday at a special performance by request of "Rigoletto," At Monday's "Lucia" Australian residents under Daniel O'Connor, of New South Wales, will make a demonstration in honor of their native prima-donna. Wednesday will see a repetition of "Carmen," with the familiar cast. On Friday "Pagillacel" and "Cavalleria Rusticana." will liacel" and "Cavalleria Rusticana. Will be given in double bill. "The Barber of Sevilie" at the matinee and "The Huguenots" in the evening are announced for Saturday.

An extra box office for the accommodation of patrons will be opened to-day.

SYLVESTER RAWLNG.

MARS AND VENUS AT OLD GUARD BALL.

'All the Generals and Admirals in the Country and Some Canadians to Be There.

That famous creanization Guard will give its annual ball there. The military air that will pervade the Carden will be chastened by the presence of lovely woman. The Old Guardsmen, who are perennially young, wi need all their bravery. At them bat-teries of beautiful eyes will shoot admiring glances; there will be a cannonading of corks in the supper room.

monading of corks in the supper room. Resides, the Guardemen will have as special guests many gallant soldiers who would as lief walk up to a bottle of champagne as charge a park of artifier.

It is expected that 10,000 persons will trip the light fantastic and sip the bubbling "fizz." All the major-generals and rear-admirals in the country will be there. As if they were not enough, the officers of soven crack regiments will come all the way from Canada. And they and the Old Guardsmen will toast each other, remarking like the "Jamales incident between friends?"

MATINEE FOR D. A. R'S.

WILL REBURY INDIAN CHIEF.

Mr. Burton Doesn't Think Tomb Is a Good Dooryard Ornament. After resting in the grave over seventy years, the body of the last chief of the Rockaway tribe of Indians, Cullof the Rockaway tribe of mains, Cultuloo Telawana, will be taken up and reburled in Trinity Churchyard at Cedarburst, L. I.

The present grave of the chief is on land bought tri Robert L. Burton, of the Rockaway Hunt Club, who thinks this monument over the Indian's grave the commencerable by a doorwald. The this monument over the Indian's grave is not ornamental to his doorvard. The monument is inscribed, "Culluloo Telamans, last of the Rockaway tribe. From his boyhood friend." It was erected by George Hewlett, whose family once owned the Rockaway Feninsula. The Indian chief liked little George Hewlett, and made him Indian waspons and toys, and when the little follow grow old he honored the old likes money.

WED TO 'PHONE MUSIC.

Come from Afar.

Music by telephone was the featura of a wedding last night at the Hotel of a wedding last night at the Hotel Imperial. It was of the teinarmoni brand, and came out of a sliver horn concealed in a bed of roses. The groom was Louis J. Dows, a Wall street broker. The bride was Amelia R. Paine. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry Marsh. Warren.

At Thirty-minth street and Broadway a curlous crowd assombled at the teinarmonic headquarters to listen to the airs from Wagner, Mendelssohn and Gounod that were marrying a couple a mile away.
